PRETTY

TWO CITIES AFTER PROSPECTIVE NEW INSANE ASYLUM.

CLAY CENTER AND WELLINGTON

HANNA REPRESENTS ONE AND FOR-NEY THE OTHER.

Fight Is as Much a Personal Contest Between These Men as It Is Between Their Respective Towns-Kansas Legislature.

TOPEKA, Jan. 13 .- (Special.) From preent indications one of the prettiest tights in which the Pops in the senato are likely to engage during the present session will come up next week, when Clay Center and Wellington will each make a gigantic effort to secure a new state insone asylum. In his message to the legislature, Governor Stanley recommended additional facilities for the care of the insane, and his recommendations are more than likely to be followed if the Pop scrap does not assume too great proportions. Clay Center and Wellington are the candidates, but the contest has become far more than a mere race between two cities for a prize. It has developed into a personal struggle between Senator Hanna and Senator Forney, and out of the campaign which each man is making many compli cations are liable to arise. Unknown to the other, each of these senators confided to his friends to-day that he would introduce his bill immediately upon the convening of Monday's session.

Last Thursday when Hanna was suspended by a cord in midair, halfway between public and private life, he received a telegram from a Clay Center banker which "The retaining of your seat is necessary to the asylum proposition.' This telegram was printed in one of the newspapers, and gave Senator Forney the first intimation that Wellington had opposition in its ambition to secure the asylum. Forney immediately joined forces with the late administration people in an effort to have Hanna unseated. A caucus of Pop senators was called, and Forney joined with Campbell in demanding that Hanna be expelled from the senate. Hanna, meanwhile, had "seen" the other senators and secured pledges from enough of them to assure his success. Forney saw he was beaten, and rather than be made sport of by Hanna arose from his seat when the resolution recognizing Hanna as a senator was introduced this week, and hid himself in the cloakroom.

Senator George Campbell, of Labette, who has been the official mouthplece in the senate of John W. Leedy, was one of the four who voted against the Hanna resolution. When the vote was announced he rushed over to the Clay Center senator's deek and said.

"Say, Hanna, I have made a mistake. I didn't think this ought to have carried unanimously, you know, and so voted as I did. If you had needed my vote you would have had it."

"That's all right, Campbell," replied Hanna, "I didn't need you this time, but I may next week. I tell you, George, what I will do. If you will support Clay Center in the asylum fight I will give you the Clay county delegation for governor two years from now."

from now."

Senator Campbell has long cherished an ambition to be chief executive of Kansas, but this was closer than he ever got to votes before. A hearty handshake closed the deal. the deal.

Meanwhile Forney is trying to pull votes

TO BAR THE LOBBY.

Kansas House Considers the Question of Erecting a Trocha in the Chamber.

TOPEKA, Jan. 13.-(Special.) The house spent an hour this morning discussing the best plan to protect itself from the lobby. The question was raised when Nichols, of Woodson, introduced a resolution authorizing the sergeant-at-arms to build a fence just behind the row of back seats to keep the lobby from interfering with the members in the back part of the hall.

Henley, of Douglas, who owns a barb-wire mill, suggested that a barb wire fence be erected.

Babb, of Sedgwick, wanted a Spanish trocha built, ten feet hign, to protect the representatives from corporation lobbyists.

Adams, Republican, of Butler, said that tepublicans did not need a trocha, but if the Pop minority was afraid of the house would build a trocha

DEMAND THEIR MONEY BACK.

Pop Representatives Who Forfeited Appearance Bonds Enlist Their Brethren in Their Behalf.

TOPEKA, Jan. 13 .- (Special.) The Pop minority in the house has joined in a move-ment to force the authorities of Topeka to refund $100 forfeited by three Pop representatives and a Topeka citizen on an appearance bond recently. The four were ar rested in an immoral resort one night during the extra session and taken to the police station. A friend of theirs put up $100 for their appearance. They paid him back when they got their pay, and now they want the city authorities to refund the money. The minority in the house has become interested, and the threat is made that, if the money is not refunded, the Pops will kill every bill in which Topeka is interested at the regular session. They claim the Pop senate will stand by them on the proposition. The city authorities have as yet taken no action. One of the Pops caught in the raid was tangled up in the legislative investigation. Testimony was given to prove that he tried to get $200 from the railroads to build a new barn. Another one was a Pop from Southrested in an immoral resort one night durbarn. Another one was a Pop from Southwestern Kansas who tried to bleed all six of the Pop candidates for United States senator two years ago for $100 each, on the ground that he was "for him." The other one was a sanctimonious member who does not live more than 100 miles from Wichita.

FARRELLY IS INQUISITIVE. Wants to Know Why Mr. Boyle Did Not Push the Anti-Trust

Proceedings. TOPEKA, Jan. 13 .- (Special.) Senator Farrelly will introduce a resolution in the senate early next week requesting Attorney General Godard to transmit to that body the evidence taken at Chanute eighteen months ago in the anti-trust hearing. Farrelly got an anti-trust law through the 1897 legislature and, after waiting in vain a reasonable time for Attorney General Boyle to act, built a little fire himself. The attorney general went to Chanute and smoked out several trusts in an inquiry held before Judge Stillwell. The evidence was transcribed, but for some reason it was buried and nothing has ever been leard or seen of it since. Farrelly wants to find out about the matter. After he gets the evidence before the senate, he will ask the senate to appoint a compiler of the senate. mittee to inquire into the non-action of the ex-attorney general.

The delegation went in to plead for another applicant. The governor heard what they had to say and told them that Spencer would get the place. Spencer is a railroad man and has the indorsement of the railroad and the say well as the official to the official way employes as well as the officials in the state. The vote will be, of course, purely complimentary.

TOM HUBBARD IS PRESIDENT

ADDRESS OF W. S. HANNA, A KANSAS CITY COMMISSION MAN.

He Talked of the Stock Yards Business "as Seen by the Commission Man"-J. Logan Jones, of Kansas City, Also Reads a Paper.

TOPEKA, KAS., Jan. 13 .- (Special.) The Kansas state board of agriculture to-day elected officers for the ensuing year, as follows: T A. Hubbard, Rome, president; Edwin Taylor, Kansas City, Kas., vice president, and Edwin Snyder, Oskaloosa, treasurer. A secretary is elected only each alternate year, and Secretary Coburn holds over. Members were elected as follows: Charles Sutton, of Russell, to succeed his father, Judge W. B. Sutton; George W. Glick, of Atchison, to succeed T. A. Hubbard; T. G. Cooper, to succeed Congressman-elect W. J. Bailey, George W. Hanna and Ed R. Smith were re-

To-day's programme included the reading of the following papers: "Practical Lessons in Apiculture," E. Whitcomb, Friend, Neb.; "What I Know About Alfalfa," H. D. Watson, Kearney, Neb., and "Kansas as a Stock Growing State," J. H. Neff, editor of the Drovers' Telegram, Kansas City. W. S. Hanna, the well known live stock commission merchant, delivered an inter-esting address on the subject, "As Seen by the Commission Man." In the course of his remarks he said: "The feeders and shippers throughout all the vast domain of states and territories contiguous to the Kansas City market do not need to take a long haul, with added expense and additional shrinkage, to get the full market value of their consignments, so long as the competition for supplies among export buyers and the immense packing houses prevails. "In connection with the influences governing the general live stock trade there are to be observed, firstly, the aids, and secondly, the hindrances: "Under the first comes the stock to be handled. Many mistakes are made at this point (especially by the inexperienced), but as the kind and age of cattle to full-feed cannot be arrived at by any definite rule, only general advice can be given, and when it comes to 'roughing,' or half-feeding, it is just as necessary to get the right kind, otherwise success is turned to failure and aids to success become hindrances Then comes the question of the kind of feed and shelter. One of the most successful feeders of my acquaintance, whose finished steers nearly always top the market, feeds shelled corn, oats and oil meal, with clover hay for roughness, and he has a large barn for shelter. On this point I want to say that it is as much of a mistake to turn stockers into a stock field to shift for themselves, without shelter, throughout the winter, as to full-feed cattle in a lot where there is a little or no wind-break,' and where snow, slush or mud may be the resting place. A feed lot knee deep in mud retards fattening, makes work harder, loses waste to the hogs, and when fattened cattle are shipped to market from such surroundings their killing qualities are often overlooked because of their filthy condition. I have seen such qualities are often overlooked because of their filthy condition. I have seen such cattle strike a 'glut' and absolutely not attract the attention of enough buyers to get the strength of the market on the day of arrival. It certainly pays to take care of live stock in every way, and it is wanton wastefulness not to do so within the limit of one's means. limit of one's means.

"It is hardly necessary to mention the influence of the railroads in the development of the live stock industry; without them it would be nothing.

ment of the live stock industry; without them it would be nothing.

"That the agricultural press (not only the so-called state papers, but the local papers as well) has contributed a wonderful aid in this direction cannot be overlooked. Of course, there are all kinds of papers; some of them of very little force and not worthy the patronage of their communities, but I have reason to know that the majority are worth the support of the citizens where they circulate, and I sincerely trust that they will be largely patronized. In some of the sparsely settled districts, many of the editors have sacrificed time and money in the development of their papers. I have seen some of them whose appearance would indicate that they had taken millet straw and buffalo grass on subscription, but whose papers displayed the editing of geniuses."

Mr. Hanna indirectly referred to the Gillett episode in this way:

"Inflated values, both on the range and on the open markets, are abuses in the trade of serious moment. These often occur through the open door of 'easy money,' When everybody can get money, then speculators have the floor; the dance is merry cur through the open door of 'easy money.' When everybody can get money, then speculators have the floor; the dance is merry while the music lasts, but when it comes to 'paying the fiddler, it can't be done, and the band disbands, while the musical director changes residence, and the chief mourners go about in sackcloth and ashes seeking what they may devour. It is an old story told over and over again, and yet some men seem never to have heard it until they are the principals in it. The harder it is to get credit, the better for the honest, conservative feeder and shipper, and the more profitable, from that standpoint, the business is.

honest, conservative feeder and shipper, and the more profitable, from that standpoint, the business is.

"One of the worst evils in the shipping business is the dishonest, irresponsible speculator; he is the most reckless of all competitors. If he can get a country banker or a commission house to honor his drafts by putting up a narrow margin, he will be after business and all competitors with a 'sharp stick'; having little or nothing to lose he takes desperate chances; if he makes anything he is far ahead, and if he loses the other fellow is far behind. I am sure every individual here would be glad to see this disturbing element eliminated, for it is a great source of annoyance and loss to every verson touched by it."

This evening J. Logan Jones, of Kansas City, Mo., read a paper on "The Farmer and His Wife as Seen by the Merchant," and Mrs. C. F. Wilder, of Manhattan, on "Another Point of View,"

The following resolutions were adopted: "Whereas, It is with pleasure that we, the members of the state board of agriculture, note the fact that a member of our board has been elected to a seat in the American congress, and believing that his usefulness to the farmers and stock raisers of America would be greatly augmented by his occupying a place upon the committee of agriculture, therefore, "Resolved, By the state board of agriculture in its twenty-eighth annual session, that the honorable secretary of agriculture at Washington be requested to urge the appointment of Hon, W. Senator McLaurin's Principal Objection to It-Enough Race

Trouble Now. WASHINGTON Jan. 13,-In the senate to-day Mr. McLaurin, Democrat, of South Carolina, took strong ground in a carefully prepared speech against a policy of expan-sion by this country. He cited as one of the principal reasons why the United States should not assume dominion over people who are widely dissimilar to the people of this country the experience of the South with the negro race. He advocated the adoption of the Vest resolution, declaring that this country could not maintain per-manently as colonies such territory as the Philippines, and held that it would be in opposition to the spirit of American Institions to do so.

"The experience of the South for the past thirty years with the negro race," said Mr. McLaurin, "is pregnant with lessons of wisdom for our guidance in the Philippines. It is passing strange that senators who favored universal suffrage should now advocate imperialism. There is a glaring inconsistency in their positions. If they are sincere in their views as to the Philippines, they should propose an amendment to the constitution which will put the inferior races in this country and the inhabitants of the Philippines upon an equality as to their civil and political rights, and thus forever settle the vexed race and suffrage questions in this country, as well as in the outlying territories.
"How can they consistently, justly, and,

I might add, constitutionally, advocate a policy for outlying territories, embracing races so nearly akin to the negro, which differs so radically from the policy adopted as to that race in the South? There can but one unswer to that question, and in that they substantially admit, in the light of a third of a century's experience, that universal suffrage is a monument failure, and that the time has come for the correction of this stupendous govern-

"Universal suffrage in the South long since degenerated into a race question, continued Mr. McLaurin, "and, as such, led to the practical elimination of the negro from politics-a policy that is to-day wisely advocated by the great leaders of the race, like Professor Miller and Booker T. Washington, and which in time, without outside interference, under the guidance of the best thought of both races, will lead to a just and mutually satisfactory settlement of the gravest problems that have ever confronted any people in modern

"It is, indeed, comforting to hear some o those who in the past criticised us, now that the question is brought home, completely justify our methods in providing a scheme of colonial government.

"The senator from Connecticut has most amply vindicated the South, perhaps unintentionally, but we thank him the more heartily for his complete announcement of the divine right of the Caucasian to govern the negro races."

Mr. Allen, of Nebraska, introduced the following resolution:

"That a committee of five senators, no more than two of whom shall be of the same political party, shall be appointed to make full inquiry into the conduct of the late war between the United States and Spain. Said committee shall have plenary authority to inquire and report on the advisability of the selection of places of encampment for the troops by the military authorities of the United States, the time, character and places of delivery of commissary, quartermaster's and medical stores, the quality and quantity thereof and the regularity of their delivery, and into all things in any manner affecting the care, discipline and health of the troops ern the negro races." care, discipline and health of the troops in the field and in camp and into all other matters and things in any manner affect-ing or bearing on the health, regularity and discipline of the army and whether there is just cause to complain of the places of encampment, food, medical stores and quartermaster's supplies furnished."
Objection was made to immediate consideration of the resolution.

Mr. Allison, of Iowa, chairman of the committee on appropriations, called up the Indian appropriation bill and the reading of the measure was begun.

Mr. Allison, for the committee, offered an amendment appropriating $20,000 to pay the expenses of inspectors and agents in the Indian Territory. He explained that it related to the committee of the com

Indian Territory. He explained that it related to the management of the five civilized tribes. The amendment went over.

At this juncture Mr. Gray, of Delaware, introduced a joint resolution as follows:

"That, in recognition of the patriotic devotion and bounteous benevolence of Miss Helen Miller Gould to the soldlers of the army of the United States during the war with Spain, the cordial appreciation of congress is hereby tendered to her, and congress hereby authorizes and directs that a gold medal, with appropriate designs, be prepared by the director of the mint and that said medal be presented to her by the president of the United States, at such time and in such manner as he may determine."

The resolution was referred to the committee on military affairs.

The reading of the Indian appropriation bill was not completed, but was laid aside until to-merrow.

Then, at 5:15 p. m., on motion of Mr. Carter, the senate went into executive session, and at 5:20 adjourned.

NAVAL PERSONNEL BILL

Less Opposition Than Was Expected

in the House and Good Majority Expected. WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 .- The house today entered upon the consideration of the naval personnel bill. It developed much less opposition than was anticipated, and the indications are that it will have a large majority when it is placed upon its passage to-morrow. The last vestige of opposition to the measure from the line officers of the navy was removed to-day when an amendment was adopted designed to prohibit staff officers upon whom the bill confers positive rank from exercising command save in their own corps. The committee also asserted their purpose to offer an amendment to-morrow to repeal the law giving prize money to the navy, and this announcement met with warm approval. The speeches on the bill to-day were filled with glowing allusions to the glories of our naval victories in the late war, and Mr. Berry, of Kentucky, created a great deal of enthusiasm by his eulogy of Schley as the hero of Santiago.

In this connection Mr. Berry read the following poem, amid a whirlwind of laughter and applause:

When the Spanish feet, with full headway, navy was removed to-day when an amend

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.-In the house to-day, Representative Meyer, Democrat, of Iowa, in behalf of the naval committee, announced it would offer an amendment to the naval personnel bill to repeal the law giving prize money to the navy for captures in time of war. The statement was loudly applauded.

Clamor Among Legislators Is Less Vociferous Than Under Governor Leedy-Most of the Lawmakers Satisfied With What They Have.

TOPEKA, Jan. 13 .- (Special.) There is not the great clamor among the members of the legislature for positions under the Stanley administration that there was under the Leedy regime, and the Republican masses are glad of it. As a prominent Republican said to-day: "There is an almost universal opinion among Republicans in the state that the members of the legislature should not ask nor receive appointments under the governor. The people figure that legislators are elected to legislate and not to use the positions to force themselves into other offices. The Pop legislators two years ago worked the thing for all it was worth. A score or more forced Governor Leedy to give them jobs under threats of causing him trouble and blocking legislation... It happens that the officials who forced themselves upon the governor were tangled up in all the scandals; in fact, they were the direct cause of them. The people believe that the governor should be left absolutely unhampered to select the best men in the state for the places, and not to be forced to appoint some member of the legislature cause he has a club over the head of the administration in the shape of a vote." Another strong Republican to-day said that if the governor should establish a precedent of not giving members of the legislature positions the people would rise

"I don't know whether any of the legislators are pressing their own claims for office," said he, "but if they are I hope they will show their patriotism and loyalty to the party by stepping aside and letting the offices go to outsiders. It will help more to build up the party than any one other thing. If I were governor, I would politely decline to consider the application of a legislator for any position." position."
Governor Stanley to-day permitted the newspaper men to get at his book in which the applicants for positions are listed. The book contains the names of over 2.000 applicants. There are at least 300 applicants for "anything." The following is a list of the candidates for the most important places:
